“ Please accept my sincerest condolences on your loss. There is no doubt that this is a difficult time for the family. Life no doubt feels so short and loss so sudden. I'm writing this message in a hope that I can offer you and your family some hope and comfort in this great time of need. The best place to find this would be in God's Holy Word, the Bible. If we consider what is written at Rev 21:4 it says "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." So we see that death and mourning are things that we experience now, but that will not be the case forever. These things are temporary. Soon to be a thing of the past. So as you are mourning please keep this close to your heart, and may you find comfort in its words.
