

Mickey Stough

July 29, 1948 - April 21, 2012

Mickey had a long and varied career, which spanned several industries, from construction to manufacturing, and finally settled into the role of security guard at a manufacturing company in Daleville, AL. In his spare time, however, he was a very talented artist and had acquired a small but loyal clientele base over the years. Some of his works have found homes all around the world, although most are here in the Southeast.
